Legislation Title: The Safe Airplane Security Bill

Line00: Be it enacted

Line01: Article I: The United States Federal Government hereby

Line02: requires that all planes have a system which can deliver a

Line03: knockout gas into the cabin of any airplane in order to

Line04: ensure that in any case the cabin can be controlled such as

Line05: if terrorists took control of the plane. The cockpit on the

Line06: other hand would have to be made airtight with its own air

Line07: supply, so that in any case the system was activated, the

Line08: pilots could still pilot the plane. This system would be

Line09: controlled from the cockpit.

Line10: Article II: A knockout gas is considered any gas that can be

Line11: used to quickly temporarily incapacitate the cabin, but is

Line12: also non-flammable and non-explosive to make certain it does

Line13: not become a danger to the plane. One strongly suggested

Line14: gas would be sevoflurane. All of the gases that could be

Line15: used would have to be approved by the Transportation

Line16: Security Administration.

Line17: Article III: The Transportation Security Administration

Line18: will oversee this piece of legislation.

Line19: Article IV: This piece of legislation would be implemented

Line20: by January 1st 2011.

Line21: Article V: All laws in conflict with this piece of Legislation Title: A Bill to Cap Federal Grants on Charter Schools

Line00: Be it enacted

Line01: SECTION 1. The Federal Grants provided yearly under the

Line02: Department of Education's Charter School Program,

Line03: will be capped to a maximum of $225,000,000.

Line04:

Line05: SECTION 2. Maximum; is defined as the greatest quantity

Line06: or value attainable or that can be attained. That cap dose

Line07: not mean that $225,000,000 must be spent each year;

Line08: it most certainly can be less than that. Currently 30 States

Line09: have passed charter school legislation. If the other 20

Line10: states would like for there future "charter schools" to

Line11: to qualify for this grant money; then they must pass

Line12: legislation that allows so by the implication

Line14:

Line15: SECTION 3. The Department of Education will remain

Line16: responsible for distributing grants to charter schools.

Line17: Which it has done prestigiously since 1999.

Line18: Failure to execute this bill properly will result in the

Line19: Department of Education giving there own paychecks

Line20: to the teachers of the Charter Schools that received grants.

Line21:

Line22: SECTION 4. This bill shall be implemented on

Line23: January 1st 2012. Giving ample time for the 20 states

Line24: that have yet to pass charter school legislation,
